AICTE takes initiative to digitally create smart engineers

AICTE, in its pursuit in creating young engineers for becoming more equipped as per needs of the industry, apart from several other initiatives, has now entered the era of social media platform by signing an MoU with D4ECLUB, a social initiative digital platform. D4ECLUB is a free-for-all mobile app developed by D4E Network India Private Limited, a Government of India recognised start-up enterprise to connect industries, institutions and individuals together. The app is available across all popular app stores.
